

Because everyone should have a home.

Circle of Community Elevators Members List

Members of the Circle of Community Elevators are rental housing providers who partner with Abode Services to house at least five households in Abode programs. Their partnership and support help Abode sustain and expand its programs to service more people in need each year.

The Circle has three levels. The highest level is called “Bay Area Skyscrapers,” which members can reach by providing a home to 20 or more households in Abode programs. The second-highest level is titled “City Highrisers,” for members providing housing to 10 or more households. The Circle’s entry level is deemed “Community Elevators,” for members providing homes for five or more households.
